GERMANY PUTS BLAME ON ITALY

GAVE HER HIS BEACH PROPERTY

She Never Called Him "Dear,"
But He Called Her
"Dippy."

Soon after admitting that the late Theodore W. Whitney used sometimes to kiss her on meeting and on leaving her, and that he gave her stock, jewelry, property at Hampton Beach, and $25,000 in money, Mrs. Amy H. Barker of Brookline collapsed on the witness stand at the trial of the contest of Whitney's widow of his $25,000 will at Boston. She was revived in ten minutes and resumed the stand.

Mrs. Barker admitted also that Whitney called her "Dippy" and that she called him "Theo," but denied that he was intimate with her. She said she never called him "dear" never sat in a hammock with him, never walked in the woods with him, and never went to the theatre with him. His regard for her was only that of a man for a woman friend, she insisted and was the same at the end of his life as when they first knew each other. Her nephew Fred Thatcher was present when Whitney kissed her, she declared.

FIRE TWO SHOTS AT GIRL'S FATHER

Man Dying as Result of Shooting Following
Elopement.

Nathan Rand is under arrest at Sanbornville where he gave himself up to the police after firing two shots into the body of Arthur Schedell of Brookfield, early this morning. The story connected with the case has it that Rand who is a widower recently ran away with Ellen the 15-year old daughter of Schedell and was later found in Concord, where they failed to get a marriage license. The father is reported to have gone to that city and taken the girl from Rand. At daylight today Rand made his way to the home of the girl and aroused the father by repeated rapping on the window. As he appeared at the window, Rand fired two shots, one lodged in the abdomen and the other in the chest. The recovery of Schedell is doubtful.

Emperor Wilhelm Sends Italian Ambassador Back to Rome With Private Dispatches to King Victor Emmanuel Accusing Rome of Treachery

Hostilities Already Begun Between Austria and Italy

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via Amsterdam, May 24.—Dispatches received here today announce that the diplomatic relations between Germany and Italy are severed and that war will follow. Germany supporting her allies, Austria and Hungary. Italian ambassador to Germany, Signor Bollati, is leaving here immediately and he will take back with him to Rome a private dispatch bidding him farewell and asking him to inform King Victor Emmanuel of the general indignation in Germany over the actions of Italy. Berlin newspapers criticised Italy bitterly in today's editions. According to them the Roman government is guilty of the greatest treachery and assert that Germany will administer the punishment on her that she so richly deserves.

(Special to The Herald)

Rome, May 24.—Hostilities have begun in the war between Italy and the Teutonic allies. Austrian troops were the first to attack but the clash resulted in a success for the Italian Alpine chassours, who drove the Austrian invaders back upon their own soil through a mountain pass between Pont di Lego and Pejo.

Count Cadorla, chief of staff of the Italian army has left for the front. He was accompanied by the Duke D'Costa, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel. Great headquarters will be established at Bologna. The Court will be moved to Florence. All German and Austrian merchant ships in Italian ports, valued at $20,000,000, have been seized by the Italian government. Italy has a quarter of a million men massed along the Alps bristling with mortars and howitzers. The great railroad center of Udine, 11 miles from the Austrian border, has been turned into a hospital base. Italian patrols along the Venetian border report seeing many troops of Prussian Uhlans who are doing the chief fighting duties for the Austrians. These Uhlans were detached from the legions that preceded Von Kluek's troops on the great drive through France last fall.

AUSTRIA PLACES THE BLAME ON ITALY

(Special to The Herald)
Vienna, May 24.—Full responsibility for the war between Austria and Italy is placed upon the Rome government. The best act and the best picture at the Portsmouth Theatre is hard to pick out. They are all head-liners and a visit to the popular play house will convince you of it.

The Management is offering four acts, each the best possible to be obtained in its line. "The Six Little Song Birds" an act made up of six little girls, all clever, has been filling the vaudeville house all the winter, and they have been heading the bill.

Hodge and Lowell come here from Portland and they have been the big hit in that city in the vaudeville line all last week. They carry special scenery and their songs are good and their comedy talking is put over in such a way as to get a laugh on every joke.

The Kaufman Sisters, performing some clever dances, break the monotony of straight dancing acts with good songs and some comedy talking. They have a lot of beautiful costumes and carry their own special scenery.

The only single act on the bill is a dandy single, Hazel Morton, with her "rope" manipulations is going to surprise a lot of the patrons who have seen good men at the business.

"The Heart-Selling News Pictorial" the moving picture newspaper is showing some interesting photographs. Aviation stunts by Art Smith at San Francisco, the sinking at sea of the old wooden Frigate U. S. S. Omaha, the champion woman bowler of America, and the great Atlantic fleet in New York Harbor.

The Girl Detective series number 15 called "The Clairvoyant Swindlers" is certain to please. A complete story full of surprises and with thrilling action.

The best little comedy writer in America today is George Ade with his "Fables in Slang." The one photograph for tonight is "The Galloping Pilgrim who Kept on Galloping." The moral is there.

The other picture, "The Jaguar Trap" a wild animal picture, is full of thrills from one end of the thousand feet of film to the other.

How Studebaker cars are built—
springs

TRIPLE Life springs that flatten the roughest roads

"I'm glad you don't drive thro' the springs," remarked a man who came in the other day. No, we DON'T. And we WON'T, either—as long as we follow the Studebaker ideal of a car that's built for EASY riding and LOW upkeep. For the simple reason that the springs are designed to take up the jounces from the road. Just that ONE thing—to make the car EASIER-riding. And you want them to be elastic and supple.

But when you drive thro' the springs, you lay EXTRA pressure on them—the driving thrusts. Have to make them stiffer, of course. And that makes HARD riding—and also endangers the alignment of the rear axle with the driving mechanism when the car hits a stone or drops into a rut.

So Studebaker drives NOT thro' the springs, but thro' TWO radius rods—and also uses a torque arm to take up the "twist" of driving. And yet the springs are so important in the COMFORT of the car, that Studebaker isn't content merely to design a chassis that gives the springs free play—but has gone further and has spent a fortune in studying the best springs that science can produce. Two years' effort have gone into this research. But it has produced steel and designs that give the Studebaker springs TRIPLE the life and the elasticity and the tough, tensile qualities of other springs. But why not come in and TRY those Studebaker springs—on the road? We'll gladly arrange for it any time you like. And write us now—we want to mail you a book on the Studebaker Chassis and Springs.

-Because it's a

PORTSMOUTH HIGH DEFEAT PORTLAND

Jordan Got Fourteen Strikeouts in Saturday's Game.

With fourteen strikeouts and some other good pitching Jordan won his game Saturday from Portland high by the score of 9 to 4 on the South Play grounds. The batting of Davis, getting two hits out of four times at bat, one a three bagger, and Jordan getting a single and a double, neither being fanned during the game, was also a feature. In the seventh inning, with the visitors one run to the good, the Portsmouth boys held a little hot feet that netted five runs and put the game on ice. Every man had one chance to deliver the goods that inning and P. Timmons had two.

One of the hardest working men who have shown on the local field was Hamilton, the Portland high catcher who worked all the time. The pitching of Weeman for Portland was also good. He got five strikeouts and allowed only one base on balls.

mons for the second out. Harrington flied out to Honan. No runs.

SPORT NOTES

New York, May 22—Packy McFarland is afraid to meet Mike Gibbons and Mike Gibbons is afraid to meet Packy McFarland. That's the only conclusion one can draw from the absolute failure of matchmakers to get the two Irishmen into the same ring.
Neither can offer the excuse that the purse offers are insufficient. Nor can they offer any other real excuse. Both men have been guaranteed $20,000 each for ten rounds, exactly $200,000 a minute. That's the highest offer ever made to any fighters who were not champions. Tom Anglin, backing a Milwaukee club, has made that offer. A New York syndicate that wants to stage the match is willing to duplicate it. But Packy and Mike won't get together.

Billy Gibson discovered a gold mine when he grabbed off Jim Coffey some eight or nine months ago. Gibson who had just quit his job as matchmaker for the Madison Square Garden recognized hidden genius in the big lumbering Irishman. He took him under his wing, hired a few fellows to teach Coffey ring science, presented him and then sent him against the best heavyweights in the game.

Coffey today ranks head and shoulders above all heavyweights except Jess Willard. He is a tremendous drawing card and Gibson now can dilate his own terms for Coffey's appearance in the ring. He's set his figure at $100,000 per fight.

Unless Coffey meets some setback he will get a chance at Willard. If he loses to Willard it will mean that he has earned more than $500,000 while under Gibson. And Gibson will get a nice slice of that. Should Coffey ultimately win the heavyweight title, it will be worth at least $500,000 to him, and Gibson certainly will get $500,000 of that.

"Wanted at once; several dozen star football players. Apply Coach Cavanaugh, Dartmouth University." That's the kind of advertisement that Ham-

FOURNIER PLAYING FLASHY GAME AT INITIAL SACK FOR WHITE SOX.

FOURNIER

Chicago, May 21—Jacques Fournier has clinched his place with the big show. The big Frenchman is playing a corking game at the initial sack for the Chicago White Sox and also is batting the ball "a la Ty Cobb." Fournier is playing his second engagement with the White Sox. Four years ago he came up from the minors, but after a season's trial he was sent back for seasoning. One season in the bushes was enough, and he returned to Chicago last year. This season he has struck his top form, and he bids fair to rank with the leading first sackers and stickers of the game.

or institution is thinking of inserting in the papers. Graduates will wreck the 1914 Dartmouth eleven and will also take a large number of the best substitutes. The freshman team of 1914 didn't develop any real players, there are only a few players of any worth on the sophomore team of last season and all in all, things don't look a bit rosy for Dartmouth in 1915.

Hugh Jennings won't let any of his players, other than pitchers, do any "warming up."
"Ty Cobb's ambition to become a pitcher nearly ruined his arm," said Hughes. "He used to spend most of his practice time shooting the ball to the catchers, putting as much stuff on it as he could. That practice hurt his arm. When Cobb came into the league he had an arm that was more powerful than any outfielder in the business. Trying out curves robbed it of some of its power and you can bet on it that I won't let any of my other infielders or outfielders hurt arms trying to throw curves."

A fellow named Gimstead who has a legislative job in Michigan has earned the undying enmity of the golfers in the Wolverine state by trying to put through a bill that would make Gimstead seems to have the peculiar idea that a person should spend all of Sunday in church and that getting a bit of recreation on that day through the playing of golf is wicked.

Gimstead has about as much chance of getting his bill through as Jack Johnson has of regaining the heavyweight championship—just that much and no more.

Pacifists Growing Belligerent.

How war fans and revives the war spirit where it had long been slumbering was perhaps never better illustrated than at the annual peace meeting of the New York Peace Society in New York city recently. This society, as its name implies, is an organization for the promotion of peace among the nations, but that present conditions are kindling and stimulating the war spirit among its membership was made plainly apparent at this meeting. There were numerous speeches, and a report of the meeting says that in all but one there was denunciation of Germany and an endorsement of President Wilson's note to that country, coupled with the declaration that in the position he has taken he must be backed up by war if necessary. One speaker was so emphatic in his remarks as to disturb the chairman of the meeting, who tried to choke him off by informing him that his time was up, but the audience shouted for the speaker to go on. He did so and his very emphatic remarks were received with applause.

What the other speakers had to say was more or less along the same line, and an outsider would hardly have gathered from the platform utterances that this was a meeting of a peace society. But there was one speaker, who, amid the excitement of the hour, stood for the original program of the society, which was founded to promote peace and not war. He denounced the failure in morality, personal and national, which the war has brought about universally, and said: "Even the president, who is looked upon in foreign parts at least as a representative American citizen, has declared over his own signature that, in case of necessity, the treaties of arbitration which we have made with 20 nations would not be worth the paper they are written on."

This properly invites the question, who is to be the judge of a case of necessity? It is apparent that in the present war each nation is answering the question for itself, that the United States stands ready to do the same thing, and that whatever its decision may be it will have the backing of the New York Peace Society.

There is not a movement in the war that is not based on the claim of necessity. The Germans make it in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania. All of the nations at war are in it from "necessity," as they see it.

Under the conditions the outlook for universal peace is not bright. Human nature changes slowly, if at all, and it is to be feared there will be wars in the future as there have been in the past. Nevertheless, to strive for peace is honorable, and those who engage in the work should guard against being swept from their feet in time of stress.

Canada wants it understood that there is no ban on immigration from the United States. It welcomes all the settlers who care to cross the line and help to develop the agricultural and other resources of the Dominion. The figures show that 30,000 Americans have settled in Canada since the beginning of the war. It would seem as though tillers of the soil could find sufficient opportunity in the United States, but there has been more or less emigration to Canada for some years, and apparently the end is not yet.

The Boston Young Woman's Christian Association has decided to close its home to women 30 years old and those earning $15 a week or more, on the ground that the home is for girls and young women trying to get a foothold in life. The decision will come hardest on those affected by the age limit, as there are many more women 30 years old than there are earning $15 a week and upwards.

A former New York congressman declares that drinking is on the increase among the women of the country. Does this account for the fact that despite the extension of "dry" territory government statistics show a steady increase in per capita consumption of alcoholic liquors?

In some cities the trolley companies have been accused of scattering tacks to puncture the tires of the jitney buses. Now the companies fall back on the labor union dodge and claim that the work was not done by them, but by their "sympathizers"?

An American has invented a chemical bomb for use in war, and it is to be tested on condemned cattle in Chicago. Of course, there would be nothing "barbarous" in the use of such bombs by the United States!

It is announced that attorneys for Thaw will fight any delay. Proper, extremely proper. There should be no delay in a case that has been handled so expeditiously up to the present time.

South America stands with Uncle Sam on the German issue. Perhaps before the mix-up ends even Mexico will recognize the Wilson movement.

SOME BRONCHO.

Maline Woods—Each morning, little 10-year-old Miss June Ellis drives down from Lake View farm to go to school, and when she reaches here turns the horse around, fastens the reins and says: "Mind, you go right back to the farm," and alone the knowing animal returns, often passing a train or automobile on the way. Sometimes Mr. Ellis will want something, but is too busy to leave, so he will call one of the boys by telephone here at the tavern and tell them what it is, and say: "I'll send Maud after it," and it will not be long before the team is here waiting at the door, and when what is wanted has been put in the wagon and Maud receives the kind word, "Now go right back to the farm, father is in a hurry," the old horse returns, and often passes a friend on the

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

Would a Sherlock Holmes read between the lines of a letter from a young lady—and see a heart forlorn—who calls Edward Earle, Edson, "The Indifferent Idol"? And then ask whether he is married.

Daily is the motion picture and its folk becoming more and more a part of every phase of life. This is evidenced in the special invitation of the Morris High School Association, New York, issued to the Edison Company, to appear at an affair for the benefit of that organization held Monday evening at the Bronx Church House. Addresses were given after a musical by Major Mitchell and Borough President of the Bronx, Douglas Mathewson. But more than any other feature of the entertainment, more than the able addresses of the distinguished visitors did the visit of the players advance interest and marked appreciation shown in the reception given the following of that company: Viola Dana, Gertrude McCoy, Bessie Loran, Gladys Hulette, Duncan McRae, and Director John H. Collins.

NO PRO-GERMAN SENTIMENT

McLaughlin Says He Has Been Quoted Wrongly.

Joseph McLaughlin, national president of the order of Elbertians with headquarters at Philadelphia, is now making visits to the several branches of the order in New England States. From some of his recent banquet speeches it was taken for granted that he was a supporter of Germany in the present war. He denies the pro-German sentiment and at Bangor took occasion to correct certain impressions drawn from his addresses. He states the following:

"Ireland should remain neutral in the great conflict—that there is no reason why her young men should shed their blood at the behest of the British government. But in saying this in voting a belief that the people of Ireland should remain neutral—he did not express any hope of German success. He is neutral—not pro-German."

"Ireland has not yet been given home rule. This has been promised to the leader of the majority; the leader of the minority has been promised an amending bill, the effect of which would be to shed the blood of the counties of Ulster of such limited rights as home rule might confer."

"And so I feel that Ireland should take no part in this war. She is not yet an integral part of the British empire. She was not consulted when war was declared, and I believe her young men should not be asked to shed their blood on foreign soil, at the behest of an alien government, in a struggle of nations for commercial supremacy. I believe her young men should not be called upon to sacrifice themselves for an alien government simply because of a promise—the promise of a nation whose history is filled with broken pledges."

"We should pray for peace, and should pray most earnestly that the United States should not become involved in this bloodiest of all wars. But if the call should come, we Americans of Irish blood would rise to the occasion, as we have done in every crisis of the nation's history. We would know no Ireland, no Germany, no flag but one—and that would be the flag of our common country, the Red, White and Blue!"

CURRENT OPINION

European War an Error of Statesmanship, Not a Visitation of God.

The war will have a revitalizing effect upon Christianity. In all this European chaos it is not Christianity that has failed, for that in reality has never been tried. Materialism has gone under, as it always must when it becomes uppermost in the minds of men.

Already the war is driving the people back to the idea of God. For a time it was the fashion to assume that science had destroyed God. Now we know that it has revealed God—a God of law and order instead of necromancy and chance. A difference exists, though, between the old and the new faith. We no longer charge God with the results of our own blunders. The European conflict is seen to be an error in statesmanship, not a visitation of God.

It matters not how we designate God—whether as the principle of goodness, as absolute energy or as a power higher than ourselves. All Europe is lifting its voice to the idea that it calls God.

Men and women who see spiritual as well as natural cause and effect see God even behind this man-made evil. Can any one observe the spirit of regeneration that is permeating France or the voluntary move toward prohibition on the part of England and doubt the operation of spiritual force?—By Florence Guernth Tuttle, Author.

PLANS FOR SHOOTING MATCHES

CONGRESS HAS APPROPRIATED LARGE SUMS FOR THIS SORT OF TRAINING.

Plans for the national shooting competition for 1915 are materializing. Under the present state of the public mind and the almost universal demand for better national defense and some form of training our citizens, this year's shooting competitions have more than usual interest. Attention has been called in the public press to the lack of proper training with the service rifle in this country. Records have shown that not more than forty per cent of the National Guard was taken to the rifle range during the year of 1914. Congress established the national matches solely with a view of increasing rifle training among Uncle Sam's services. Owing to the unusual condition of affairs this year, undoubtedly the matches will be more generally attended than ever before as states are brought to the realization of the importance of this training. It is probable that here will not be a state in the Union that will not be represented in the 1915 matches.

Even West Virginia whose appropriation for the maintenance of the National Guard was omitted this year, has declared its intention of sending some way of sending a team to Florida where these national matches are to be held. Congress at the last session still further gave its approval and assistance to rifle teams by appropriating $50,000 to assist states which have to send teams for long distances in paying transportation charges so that such states as Washington, Oregon and Maine will not be handicapped this year in the sending of rifle teams to Florida.

The range in Florida where the matches of 1915 are to be shot, is the largest in the United States in point of target facilities, it being out-ranked only by the Camp Perry, Ohio, range, and it is second in point of attractiveness and salubrious location, being held only by the famous Seagriff, N. J., range which is located on the Atlantic seaboard. The Florida range is only eight miles from Jacksonville with which it has direct communication by both railroad and steamboat services on the St. John's river. Railroads serving the Florida shoot have announced a special rate which will also be of great help towards a large attendance. This is the first time in five years that special rates have been granted.

The executive officers for the matches are Colonel Richard M. Blatchford U. S. A., commandant of the Army School of Musketry at Fort Sill Okla. The teams to represent the cavalry and infantry of the United States army have not yet been organized nor have the captains been appointed. It is rumored that the infantry team will be captained by Major George C. Shaw, U. S. A., who is now on his way back from the Philippines. A team representing the naval academy will be sent to the national matches again this year and efforts will be made to overcome the prejudice of the officials of the naval academy at West Point to again be represented by a rifle team. Only in one national match has a team from the military academy participated. As is customary the organization and control of the matches, as well as those of the National Rifle Association of America which will spread the national matches will be in the hands of the regular army and soldiers will be sent to pitch the camp and do the marking. (The scoring will be done by a special company of Marines, thus insuring the highest standard of services for this important duty. Very few changes have been made in the conditions of this year's matches. A course consisting of 200 and 300 yards rapid fire, ten shots at each range and 300, 500 and 1000 yards, slow fire, 16 shots at each range has been adopted. Every team must have on it at least six new men, and all state teams must be selected by preliminary contests held on state ranges. The service rifle and ammunition as Lobbyists Took $31,012.63 at Concord for Fees.

The returns of legislative agents employed at the 1915 session of the legislature filed with Secretary of State Edwin C. Bean, shows a total expenditure of $31,012.63. The biggest expenditure on a single bill was in the fight for the Boston and Maine reorganization bill which was killed summarily in the house. The fight cost fully one-third of the total amount of the returns and that did not represent all of the expenditure as several of the active factors in that fight were working for annual salaries which did not figure in the returns.

Conrad W. Crocker representing the William B. Lawrence estate was the last of those engaged in the reorganization fight to file. He received no fees being on the retainer basis but his expenses were $186.95.

BIDS FOR STATE ROAD WORK

Lowell Contractor the Lowest, Will Be Awarded Later.

Antonio Palato of Lowell, Mass., was the low bidder on both contracts for the Salem and Derry stretches of the Rockingham State road from Manchester to Methuen in the bids opened by Commissioner Fred E. Everett of the State Highway department. No award was made that being the province of the governor and council. Commissioner Everett will submit his report on the bids at the meeting next Friday.

The work in Derry is a continuation of that done last year and will go on toward Windham. Native stone macadam is the material called for in the contract. There were four bids ranging from Palato's low one of $8,738.84 to $10,318.66, submitted by Fred E. Ellis of Melrose, Mass. The other bids were $10,173.90 by James B. Watkins of Amesbury, Mass., and $9,235.40 by Louis Davis of Sunapee.

Six bids were received for the Salem road, extending through to Salem Depot. Salato's bid for this job was $5,722.50, which was $55 lower than that of Louis Davis. The other bids were $6,599 by Fred E. Ellis, $5,734 by A. G. Perry of Brattleboro, Vt., $6,995 by Peter Boudant of Boston and $7,580 by B. E. Savage of Worcester, Mass.

Since Norway has given suffrage to women, legislation has taken a remarkable socialistic turn, as it always does in woman suffrage communities. A dispatch from Christiania to the Boston Transcript of April 15, 1915 says: "The legislature with a large majority has passed a law by which illegitimate children are to be placed in the same class with legitimate children in relation to the father. The proponents of the law assert that the old fashioned legal matrimony must be replaced by the free love connection between soul affiliates."

"C. O. D.—1020."

These letters look like the "collect on delivery" sign you see on many express packages. But far from it. They are the title of one of the most fascinating stories of adventure, intrigue, mystery and romance ever penned. This great narrative, "C. O. D.—1020," written by Natalie S. Lincoln, which involves a deep murder mystery, intrigue, skilful detective work, etc., will be printed in serial form in the New York Sunday World's Illustrated Magazine Sunday, June 30. Read it!

GEODETIC SURVEYS IN ALABAMA
The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey of the Department of Commerce has recently published a report, called Special Publication No. 24, which contains among other data the exact latitude and longitudes of 600 stations in Alabama and Mississippi. There are also given the correct distances between each two adjacent stations and the true bearings of the lines connecting them. Some of the stations are natural or artificial objects such as mountain peaks, church spires and lighthouses but many stations required special marks or monuments to preserve them. These are frequently metal tables set into solid rock or blocks of concrete. Complete descriptions of these marks and of the general locations of the stations with reference to other objects and to the features of the surrounding country are contained in the publication. Engineers and surveyors interested in any of the stations can easily find them from these descriptions.

The publication also contains the elevations of those stations which are on high ground. The point of greatest elevation in Alabama, determined by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and probably the highest point in that state is station Chechahaw, on the top of the mountain of the same name, which is 2413 feet above sea level. This mountain is about nine miles south of the town of Oxford and its top is a point of the boundary line between Talladega and Clay counties. The Coast and Geodetic Survey is publishing its geodetic data for all states as rapidly as possible. Good progress has been made along this line and much valuable information is contained in the records which are now available for free distribution. Copies of the above mentioned publication, Special Publication No. 24, may be obtained by interested parties upon application to the Division of Publications, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

To the Business Men of Portsmouth

Prosperity and local pride are twins. They are born at the same time and grow up together. Enthusiasm for the home town is a great thing for local business men. Once developed, this feeling shows direct returns in more sales and bigger profits.

Have you ever seen a shabby town proud, or prosperous? Good paint is a powerful factor in keeping prosperity after a community has won it.

a result of the triple collision which occurred yesterday morning on the Caledonian railway north of Carlisle.

All except six of the killed were soldiers belonging to the Royal Scots Regiment, 500 of whom were traveling in a troop train. At least 200 persons, mostly soldiers were injured.

These figures establish a new record for railway accidents in the British Isles, the number of dead and injured being far greater than in any previous disaster of the kind. The death toll probably will be added to, as many of the injured are not expected to recover.

WOUNDED MAN BORN IN THIS STATE

JOHN SULLIVAN, WOUNDED IN BATTLE IN FRANCE, LIVED IN NORTH WALPOLE UNTIL HE WAS 14.

Bellows Falls, Vt., May 23.—Word has been received here that John Sullivan, who was born in North Walpole, across the Connecticut river from this town, has been wounded in action and is in a hospital in France. He was a gunner in the 24th Field Battery, 3d Brigade, Canadian Trenchers, and went to the front last fall.

Gunner Sullivan was born in North Walpole 20 years ago. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, now of 270 Queen street, Toronto. He lived in North Walpole until 14 years of age and then went to Toronto with his parents. He served his apprenticeship as a plumber.

He volunteered for active service last August. After a few weeks in camp at Valcartier he was sent to Salisbury Plains, Eng., and from there went to the front early last fall.

His mother received a telegram a few days ago notifying her that he had been wounded. A short time ago she received a letter from him saying he had been in the trenches five weeks and had come out for two days' rest, but that he had rather be in the trenches.

Gunner Sullivan is a nephew of Mrs. James Keane and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Keane of North Walpole and Mrs. Edward Keane of Bellows Falls.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE NOTES

Why, do you believe, is "every Socialist a suffragist?" why was the "Men's League for Woman Suffrage" founded by Socialists? Why is Miss Blackwell a Socialist? Why does Dr.

Anna Shaw "welcome every Socialist vote?" There is a reason and a similarity between these two agitations that should direct men's and women's thoughts to this friendly alliance and cause them to inquire whether it bodes good or ill to this country. Note and compare the fierce indictments of the men, the laws, and conditions by the suffragists with the same attacks made by Socialists. Then think of the basic principles on which suffrage was founded. One of these is that "The isolated household is responsible for a large share of women's ignorance and degradation;" this is straight socialism, which is the enemy of the home and family and the upholder of free alliances and institutions for children. Do you wonder that there is a Socialist section in all the suffrage parades? But do you not wonder why more persons do not bring of this question instead of arguing abstractions on rights and taxation that were answered a century and more ago?

Washington, May 23—Sec. R. N. Howland, musician, second class, attached to the cruiser Maryland, also has been commended by Mr. Daniels for heroism in jumping overboard in the dead of night and rescuing a fellow sailor from the waters of Honolulu Harbor.

NEWS FROM THE STATE COLLEGE

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., May 24—Fourteen members of the two year course in agriculture received from President Fairchild their certificates of graduation this afternoon at the annual commencement exercises. The fourteen were but a remnant of the fifty-eight who entered the course two years ago, but as President Fairchild said in his farewell to the class, they represented perhaps a rather larger average of success than usual, at any rate in material things, and their success was a result of their courage and their perseverance.

Prof. J. W. Sanborn of Gilmanton, who made the principal address, told the graduates that the country had need of them. "Don't stick in your barnyards," he said, "Go out and study the great problems which face this

1ST COMPANY COAST ARTILLERY CORPS NOTES

At the regular drill of the First Company last Tuesday night the new commissions of the three officers of the company were read by Major Hoyt. These commissions were signed by the Governor on May 14, 1915 and are for a term of five years. The officers are: Capt. C. P. Bodwell, 1st Lieutenant W. H. Naylor, 2nd Lieutenant C. W. Cornum.

On Sunday there was an examination for Corporal.

Corp. A. V. Sticklers has been promoted to Sergeant, Vice Sergeant Cornum discharged to accept a commission.

The Company has just received the new regulation trumpets with slings, also the new whistles for officers and sergeants.

The plans for the drill shed have been accepted by the Governor and Council and the bids will be opened May 25, 1915.

A list of the new furniture that is required will be prepared in the near future, and it is hoped to have the equipment before long.

The equipment will probably include new steel clothing lockers for the men. In these lockers will be kept all of the uniforms and equipment issued to each man.

NEWINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. McCleod are entertaining relatives from Massachusetts.

Mrs. Bennett and daughter have been passing a few days with Mrs. William Furber.

Dorothy Furber celebrated her tenth birthday on Thursday, May 20th. A family party was given in honor of the occasion. A dainty supper was served consisting of sandwiches, fancy cake, fruit and ice cream.

The Reapers met with Mrs. Jackson Hoyt on Wednesday afternoon. The ladies are busy making aprons, etc.

Although busy the time was passed pleasantly by all who were present.

The W. C. T. U. did not hold their meeting on Thursday as a quorum of the members were not present.

Roland Herkeley while playing broke his collar bone on Wednesday evening. Dr. McLaughlin was called to reduce the fracture and the lad is doing nicely.

The selectmen, fire warden and others were busy on Saturday clearing the town's land of stumps and burning the brush where the timber was cut off a year ago. After the plot was cleared a lot of young white pine trees were set out, a gift to the town from our representative, Mr. James Brink.

When grown the trees will make a large grove and will serve as a memorial of the donor for years to come. The citizens of the town appreciate the generous gift from Mr. Brink for they see that in the future the town will be much benefited by it. Years ago our representatives gave a supper in honor of their election but of late they have made the town a present and thus all the citizens receive a benefit from it which is lasting.

Mrs. Mary Pickering passed Sunday

Miss Deia Cate was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Metropolitan Line Opens Ninth Season Today.—The Bunker Hill and Massachusetts on New York Night Run.

The Eastern Steamship Lines begins the Ninth Season of daily summer passenger service between New York and Boston today, placing in commission the twin-screw steel express steamships Massachusetts and Bunker Hill, which are among the finest merchant vessels flying the American flag, and are the fastest ships in the coastwise service. They make the run of 337 miles from Pier 15, North River, New York in about 15 hours, leaving New York daily at 5 p. m., and due at India Wharf, Boston about 8 the following morning.

The inauguration of this splendid express passenger steamship service nine years ago gave to the business men of Boston and New York the means of making the trip direct from city to city without change and without encroaching upon business hours. In the new ships Massachusetts and Bunker Hill there is ample passenger capacity for the service.

The ships are luxuriously fitted up and every provision is made for the passenger's comfort and convenience. On each of the ships the staterooms are large, well lighted and well ventilated. Electric fans are installed in the inside rooms. There are also a number of suites of rooms with bathrooms.

The dining saloons are large and elegantly appointed and the bill of fare represents the best there is in the markets of New York and Boston prepared by experienced chefs to provide for its patrons the best dining service to be had on route. Equally with comfort and enjoyment, the passenger's safety is provided for. In fact the policy is "safety first."

The provisions for safety include: Wireless telegraph, life boats and Rafts and Life Preservers in excess of Legal Requirements, submarine signals, automatic sprinklers, water-tight bulkheads, and a rigidly maintained system of inspection, en route and at dock.

Repairs would cost $25,000 and none stands ready to pay.

Washington, May 23—A board of survey and appraisal has recommended the sale of United States ship Portsmouth and Sec. Daniels has offered her for sale under an act of Congress approved March 3, 1913.

The old ship, which was at the Gold Gate when California broke from Mexico, will be sold to the highest bidder for junk. Her appraised value is $3000, just about what the iron, brass and copper in her framework will bring when removed.

Several efforts were made to save the Portsmouth as a "one friend" at Portsmouth, N. H., and in California would like to have her kept but it will cost at least $25,000 to put her in shape to move her to a Norfolk, where she now rests in the mud. California would take her, but Uncle Sam cannot furnish the money to repair her, as it is against the law to repair a wooden ship if the repairs cost more than 12 per cent of what a like new ship would cost.

Congress donated the ship to California if the state would take her with out cost to the Government. The California Legislature accepted, but did not appropriate money for repairs. Gov. Johnson vetoed the bill, as it was useless without a provision for repairs.

Sec. Daniels will give the ship to Portsmouth, N. H., Congress approving. If the people of that city will take her from Norfolk to Portsmouth.

But all hope of saving the Portsmouth as a relic has been abandoned and she will be sold for junk.

VALUABLE GIFT OF EXETER SENIORS

GRADUATING CLASS PRESENTS 50 VOLUMES FOR SCIENCE DEPARTMENT OF DAVIS LIBRARY

Exeter, N. H., May 23—The memorial gift to Phillips Exeter of the senior class comprises about 50 volumes for the department of science of the Davis Library. They were placed on exhibition at the library today. The class also gives a fund for the increase of the collection.

The classes of 1915 and 1914 made like gifts for the departments of fiction and history. For these collections there are special plates.

SUBMARINE K-6 FAST AGROUND

Newport, R. I., May 23—With the naval tender Fulton standing by to take off her crew at a moment's notice, the submarine K-6, flagship of the Fourth division, is hard aground today on the east side of No Man's Land. A dense fog and heavy sea has cut the undersea craft off from communication with other vessels, but as the Fulton has sent out no word by wireless, it is thought the K-6 is in no danger going to pieces. This is the third time since the beginning of the great naval war game last Tuesday that submarines have been in trouble of a serious nature.

Lieutenant Joseph O. Fisher, in command of the K-6 and who has been in commission for only seven months. Ensign T. S. Boyd is his second officer.

The other two submarines to suffer accidents in the war game are the E-2 which came in with a broken shaft, and the K-1, which was towed into port with her engines out of gear.

As far as can be ascertained the greater part of the Blue, or defensive fleet is off Montauk Point today, and indications are that the first great "battle" of the war will take place somewhere in that vicinity. The Red, or hostile fleet is bringing, theoretically, 100,000 men to be landed on the coast somewhere between Eastport, Me., and Cape Hatteras.

Where the second "engagement" will take place is a matter of great speculation, but as ten destroyers are steaming toward Boston with all haste, the "fight" is more than likely to occur off the New England coast.

The submarines D-1, G-4 and K-5 have put into port because their cruising radius had been exhausted.

The K-6 is 148 feet long, has a fifteen and a half foot beam and a draught of fifteen feet. Her capacity is 4,500 miles on the surface at a speed of eleven knots and she can make 120 miles submerged at five knots. With the other three "K's" of the Fourth division she made the journey from Key West to New York for the review in six days, covering the distance of 1,200 miles without assistance from the "mother ship" Prairie.

PRESIDENT REPLIES TO MRS. BELMONT.

President Wilson has written to Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont expressing regret that he was unable to see a delegation of women when he was here to review the fleet. Mrs. Belmont has received the communication from the President's secretary, J. P. Tamm.

The letter was in answer to the letter she sent to the Baltimore Hotel last Monday by two young women, who invaded the rooms where the President and others were having luncheon. The reply from the White House follows:

The White House, Washington, May 24, 1915. "Personal."

"My dear Mrs. Belmont:—The President asks me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th of May, and to express his regret that the circumstances rendered it impossible for him to see the delegation of which you speak."

Sincerely yours,
J. P. TAMM.

'A RUSSIAN HONEYMOON' TO BE REPEATED

On Thursday Evening for Benefit of High School Athletic Asso.

On Thursday evening, May 27th the drama entitled "A Russian Honeymoon," which was such a success when presented last week will be repeated at High School Assembly hall for the benefit of the High School Athletic Association. Mr. H. G. Slander, together with the others of the original cast will be seen.

The Athletic Association is short of funds owing to the poor support given by the people of Portsmouth at the High School games in this city. In fact there is a deficit at present, and it is on account of this that the play will be repeated.

Let everyone interested in the welfare of the school do all in his or her power to make this a big success.

Police Get Complaints on Sunday Ball Playing.

The police on Sunday put an end to two baseball games by boys who were playing near the paper mill and in the Almshouse field. In both cases a complaint was lodged against the boys. The owner of the property at Freeman's Point claims he had no objection to the game on his premises, until the grass started growing but the lads were injuring his hay crop. Noise was the other complaint made against the pines playing on the city property.

JUMP PRICE OF SPRINKLING

More Oil and Repair of Wagons the Cause.

Water wagon trips are going to be more expensive this year than last, not to reform persons who are breaking away from Demon Rum, but to people who live in the street sprinkling district who are called upon to pay $7.00 more than they did in the summer of 1914. The amount to be raised for 1915 is $4200 at the rate of twelve one hundredths of one per cent. Last year it was necessary to raise $3500 and the rate was one-tenth of one per cent. At the tax assessor's office today none of the officials were able to explain the increase. However, The Herald learns that the extra expense is due to a general overhauling of the water carts and the fact that the commission is going to use a little more oil than in the past on certain parts of the district that have been annually sprinkled with oil instead of water. The commission states that one coating of oil has proved insufficient and in order to get good results it is proposed to go over it twice.

POLICE COURT.

W. F. Emery and Genevieve Baker, arrested Saturday night on High street were before the court today charged with a statutory offence and were represented by Attorney S. W. Emery. Previous to the opening of the court, Emery appeared at the police headquarters and presented a certificate of marriage issued by the town clerk of Kittery and signed by a clergyman of that town. It was dated May 20 but it did not look good to the police. They got in communication with the clerk and minister at Kittery and were informed that the couple were married there on Sunday while out on bail. It was plainly evident that somebody had changed the date on the license from May 23 to May 20, which Emery finally admitted after being questioned by his attorney and the court. It cost him $30 and the newly made bride got away with $15 and costs of $5.

John White, who claims Connecticut as his home, was arrested by Officers Doherty and Philbrick at one o'clock on Sunday morning while auto joy-riding by his lone home on the Newington road. According to the police, he was in no condition to operate the car and they took him in. Today through his attorney S. W. Emery he pleaded nolo and was obliged to tear off $45 from the roll of $200 or more that he had in his jeans.
